¹ Excludes first-time freshmen in occupational programs not creditable towards a bachelor's degree.

² Data for 2-year branches of 4-year college systems are aggregated with the 4-year institutions.

³ Because of imputation techniques, data are not consistent with figures for other years.

⁴ Data not comparable with pre-1990 figures because of a change in reporting procedures.

⁵ Preliminary data.

⁶ Data are for 4-year and 2-year degree-granting institutions that were eligible to participate in Title IV federal financial aid programs.

—Data not available.

NOTE.—Trend tabulations of institutions of higher education data are based on institutions that were accredited by an agency or association that was recognized by the U.S. Department of Education. The Department of Education no longer distinguishes between those institutions and other institutions that are eligible to participate in Title IV programs. The new degree-granting classification is very similar to the earlier higher education classification, except that it includes some additional institutions, primarily 2-year colleges, and excludes a few higher education institutions that did not award degrees. Alaska and Hawaii are included in all years. Because of rounding, details may not add to totals.
